Lyrics: Anna-Lena Michel

Brick by Brick

Seems like it's breaking out of me
Never wondered 'bout myself how it feels
Lying next to you, next to you
Now it's time to let it go
Let it go to get to know how it feels
Living without you, without you

That's what you get when you fear that you're all alone
When you lose your inside till you know he's gone
I will recover my mind
I will remember who I was before
That's what you get when you fear that you're all alone
When you lose your inside till you know he's gone
I will recover my mind
I will remember who I was before
Brick by brick

Seems like I'm waken from the dead
Never cared about myself cause I felt that I was Bound to you, bound to you
No I won't hide my face no more

Got to leave behind the pain that I felt

Because of you, cause of you

Chorus

I thought I would make it

But you never paved the way for me

I was blinded by conspiracy

I thought we could make it

But you took my breath for someone new

Please let it go

Chorus
